Platinum Sponsors

Alera Group

Alera Group offers CICU Members access to the Health4Edu Program, a program designed to control healthcare costs, while protecting campus autonomy (i.e., you do NOT need to change any plan designs, carriers, eligibility, employee contributions, etc.). The Health4Edu Program is in its 11th year and has grown to 16 member colleges and universities with over 20,000 members. Alera Group is an independent national insurance consultant and financial services firm created through the merger of like-minded, high-performing, entrepreneurial firms across the United States. The Group's higher education clients benefit from its national resources and broad expertise. To learn more about Health4Edu and/or speak with a current member, please contact Kyle Crosley at Alera Group.

Bond, Schoeneck & King

For more than 80 years, Bond, Schoeneck & King has provided legal services to colleges and universities. They have acted as general counsel to multiple colleges and universities that do not have in-house counsel and as primary outside counsel for numerous other institutions. Their higher education practice includes several attorneys who have prior experience as general counsel or held other senior legal and administrative roles at colleges or universities. The firm's attorneys are very active in leadership roles in the National Association of College and University Attorneys (NACUA) and regularly publish articles and speak on current higher education topics. Higher education is the firm's largest client industry group practice area. They thoroughly understand the inner workings of our higher education clients, grasp campus dynamics and stay up to date on contemporary pressures and the increasingly complicated regulatory environment in which they operate.

Cullen and Dykman

Cullen and Dykman is a full-service law firm that has been providing legal services to clients for more than 170 years.

The firm's Higher Education practice group is a multidisciplinary team committed to helping colleges and universities navigate the ever-changing higher education landscape. The firm's attorneys are experienced in the many issues affecting academic institutions on a daily basis, including student affairs, regulatory compliance, labor and employment, governance, bond financing, tax, charitable giving, intellectual property, real estate, internal investigations, litigation, and others.

In addition to advising on day-to-day matters, Cullen and Dykman is uniquely experienced in advising colleges and universities considering strategic opportunities as well as those facing financial challenges.

The team assists institutions in evaluating the viability of potential long-term solutions given the institution's financial runway and carrying out potential strategic transactions, including obtaining regulatory, accreditor, and other required approvals, or, in a worst-case scenario, guiding the institution and its Board in developing and implementing a plan for an orderly closure and winding down of the institution's affairs.

The firm's higher education attorneys bring a wealth of knowledge and experience to service colleges and universities generally and are often retained for project-specific engagements as an efficient way to address critical matters and their legal implications. Mindful of the economic realities facing academic institutions, the firm's focus is on providing practical solutions to complex legal problems that avoid unnecessary burdens and expenses.

Phillips Lytle

Phillips Lytle prides itself on partnerships with college and university clients, and has a deep understanding of the structure, challenges, requirements, sensitivities and expectations of higher education institutions. Their bench strength spans from board governance to faculty grievances to student protests to privileged compliance audits. They provide advice to our clients regarding allegations of sexual misconduct, sexual harassment, student/faculty misconduct, discrimination, criminal violations, safety or security violations, and hazing. With Title IX trained attorneys on staff, Phillips Lytle has extensive experience investigating allegations of sexual misconduct, discrimination and harassment, and acts as a strategic partner with Title IX coordinators and Human Resource Directors in their internal investigations. They also vigorously defend their Education clients against government investigations and private lawsuits. Additionally, in today's challenging education climate, Phillips Lytle is often a trusted advisor with respect to discussions of consolidation, reorganization or dissolution. Learn more about our Higher Education Industry Team.

Phillips Lytle is a preeminent law firm with more than 170 attorneys in nine offices across New York State and in Chicago, IL; Washington, D.C.; and Canada.

Since our founding in 1834, the firm's attorneys have been consistently recognized for legal excellence in service to local, national and international clients.
